The Story of the Bible

Abraham's Legacy: God's covenant with Abraham was his answer to man's sinfulness. Through Abraham and his descendents, God would bring reconciliation between humanity and himself. The promises to Abraham will dominate the rest of the Pentateuch.

Nation Promise: The Israelites were becoming a nation through independence from Egyptian oppression, a new king in God and a law to govern themselves.

Land Promise: The Israelites had been traveling to get to Canaan. Faithlessness denied the first generation entry into the land, and the second generation would come to the brink of entering by the end of the Pentateuch.
